Two Chairmen Retire From Posts This Summer

The present chairmen of the Departments of Foreign Language and History will retire this summer, according to Dr. Frank J. Prout.

Miss Caroline Nielsen, professor of foreign language, will retire in June and John Schwarz, professor of history, in August.

Dr. Cecil L. Rew will become acting chairman of foreign language, and Dr. Grover C. Platt of history.

Miss Nielsen has been department chairman since she joined the faculty in 1918. Prof. Schwarz came here as a social science instructor in 1923. He became the first chairman when the history department was established.

Miss Nielsen received two degrees from the University of Nebraska and has studied at the University of Chicago and in Germany. She is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, scholarship society.

She has been president of the Woman's Club, Shakespeare Round Table and P.E.O. Sisterhood chapter, secretary of the local chapter of the American Association of University Professors and the Nebraska State Teachers Association, national counselor of Sigma Pi Rho, Latin honorary, and chapter advisor of Alpha Phi sorority.

Professor Schwarz has degrees from Miami and Chicago. He also attended Columbia and Ohio Northern.

He is chairman of both the University Artists' Course and Assembly Committee and the Committee on Gifts, Endowments, and Memorials. He served on the first Library Board here.

Professor Schwarz has been the advisor to Emerson Literary Society for a number of years. He is a member of Phi Gamma Mu, national social science honorary; Kappa Phi Kappa, national education honorary; the American Historical Association; the Mississippi Valley Historical Association; the Southern Historical Association; the Foreign Policy Association; and the American Society of International Law.

Prof. Schwarz gives a series of lectures on six prominent Americans to his classes every year. He plans to go on lecturing and writing after his retirement.

ROTC Applicants See Registrar

Students who desire to enroll for courses in R.O.T.C. should fill out an application blank in the Registrar's Office.

In general, veteran students, discharged from the Army, Navy, or Marine Corps are eligible for the advanced course in R.O.T.C. This course carried for two years entitles a student to a commission in the Army Reserves.

While carrying the work monetary allowances are provided—about $20 per month. Three hours of academic credit is granted for the work. Students, whose degree program requires 17 hours each semester, are permitted to carry 20 semester hours of work without penalty.

Non-veteran students are eligible to carry the basic course in R.O.T.C. This basic two-year program grants two semester hours of credit for each semester. Although the legislature has not been completed, it should be recalled that after this last war and before Selective Service was discontinued, members of R.O.T.C. units were excused from the draft.

Students receiving disability checks from the government are not eligible for the program.

It is not known exactly when the army staff will report to the campus. Until they arrive, general information may be secured by contacting J. W. Bunn in the Registrar's Office.

All those interested in carrying work with the R.O.T.C. program should fill out an application as soon as possible.

Record Vote Cast Friday

A total of 2476 ballots were cast in last Friday's election for the 1948 Li'l Abner and Daisy Mae. This election turnout amounted to 59 per cent of the University enrollment, an all-time record.

Jack Dawe won the title of Li'l Abner by an overwhelming victory of 1517 votes compared with his nearest runner-up, Cliff Baker, who received 871 votes. This majority was recorded on the first ballot.

Winner of the Daisy Mae contest was not determined until the fifteenth count was taken of the preferential ballots. Nancy Walters then had 1159 votes; Marilyn Shane, 1129.

More than 100 of the total number of ballots were discarded because they were not properly made out.

News Takes Three Awards

With two individual journalism awards and a second place tie with Heidelberg for the best college weekly in the state, six Bee Gee News staff members, a columnist, and the faculty advisor came back to Bowling Green on May 1 from the Ohio College Newspaper Association convention in Columbus.

First place in the sports story division was taken by Sports Editor Bill Day. John Fay's "Is This Democracy?" won second place in the editorial category.

Last year the News won third place in the best weekly class and the year before it took an honorable mention. The Collegian, of Toledo University, won first place this year.

The 28 schools represented in this 22nd OCNA annual convention, were entertained by Capitol University of Columbus. Newspapers were judged in 11 divisions, with 52 awards for first, second, third, and honorable mention being given.

Attending from Bowling Green were: Eileen Dewhurst, editor-in-chief; Luceal Foley, managing editor; John Fay, Harold Flagg, and Margaret Finney, associate editors; John Dyer, columnist; Janet Moll, national advertising manager; and John Mires, faculty advisor.

Wayne V. Harsh, executive secretary of OCNA, presented the awards. The new president of the association is Harry H. Hollingsworth, editor of the Akron Buchtelite.

Obee Announces Play Cast

Director Harold Obee has announced that the cast for the production of Arthur Miller's "All My Sons" has been selected and is now in rehearsal.

Appearing in the play, which won for Mr. Miller the 1947 Drama Critics Circle Award will be Jim Witte as Keller; Evalene Smith as Mother; Earnest Capron as Chris; Helen Tsarones as Ann; Peck Rose as George; Ralph Dille as Frank; Peggy Collette as Lydia; Bill Sherman as Jim; and Phyllis Allen as Sue.

The play, which was one of the most successful hits of the 1947 season on Broadway will be presented in the Main Auditorium May 19-22. The Broadway production starred Arthur Kennedy.

Considered one of the most timely productions to deal with post-World War II problems, the play was recently made into a movie, not yet released.

A new rehearsal technique will be applied in preparation for this production. Similar to the method used by athletic teams, movies will be taken of one half-hour scene during rehearsals and later shown back to the players in an attempt to iron out imperfection.

Delta Tau Delta Accepts Local Kappa Tau's

The petition of Kappa Tau, local fraternity, organized in October, 1946, has been approved by the Arch Chapter of Delta Tau Delta, which will become the eighth national fraternity on campus.

The Bowling Green chapter, named Delta Tau, will be the 77th in the fraternity. Two prominent Delts, Governor

May Elections Held May 26

Election of May Queen and her attendants will be held May 26. All candidates' pictures will be displayed in front of the Main Auditorium during the day.

These pictures, which must be 8 by 10 inches, must be given to Jean Grosenbaugh, secretary of Student Senate, at the Alpha Phi house.

Class and Student elections will be held Tuesday, June 1. Class rallies must be held soon, and all petitions, complete with 50 names, must be sent to Dave Aurelius, chairman of the election committee, a week before the elections.

Parking Notice

The administration has made the following announcement:

Assigned parking for faculty and other employees has been in effect since May 3. Leniency was shown toward offenders the first week while all concerned were familiarizing themselves with the location of assigned spaces and areas.

It is believed that one week was sufficient to enable all concerned to read signs indicating the assigned areas, and consequently, the police began on May 10 giving tickets for violations. Violators must pay the usual fine assessed or appear before the Student Court for a hearing. All fines assessed by the Court will go to the Clayton C. Kohl Scholarship and Loan Fund.

The work of the police will be made easier if those to whom space is assigned will report the license number of the violator, the time of the violation, and the space occupied by the violator, direct to the office of the dean of students.

The assigned parking area will be studied carefully during the busiest hours of the day to determine the degree of use made of such space by the one the space is designed. This information is expected to be of value in making plans for the future.

Tentative Dates Set For Key

The tentative delivery date for the 1948 Keys is May 31, according to Russell Baird, faculty adviser of the Key.

The yearbooks are complete with the exception of the advertising and binding.

Definite date of distribution to the students will be announced after the Keys arrive from the binder.

Senate Sells 600 Tickets For AU Prom

Student Senate has sold 600 tickets for the semi-formal University Anniversary Prom this Friday from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. in the Men's Gym. Special 2 a.m. permissions will be granted to women who sign out for the dance.

Men are requested not to purchase corsages for their dates. Wearing tuxedos is optional.

Johnny Long and his orchestra, featuring soloist Natalie, the Beachcombers, Tex Mulcaby, and Floyd Sullivan, will provide the music. Joe De Santis, accompanied by Jack Miller, will entertain during intermission.

Senate committees for the dance are as follows: general chairman, Sam Morell; band, Gordon Ward; decorations, Jaunita Bame, chairman; Glenn Knerr; and John Compton; programs, Betty Sanders, chairman; Roy Wright; and John Payak.

Publicity, Jean Grosenbaugh, chairman; Walt Ettinger, and Barbara Bottenus; tickets, Ruth Hausrath, chairman; Jim Epps; and Mildred Ritchey; invitations, Betty Lange; clean-up, Dave Aurelius, chairman; Joe Seigler, Fred Kamps, and Bill Thompson.

Tickets can no longer be purchased. Six door guards and a policeman will be present to prevent gate-crashing.

This dance takes the place of the usual Greek Week dance.

Last night saw the annual Interfraternity Sing with all fraternities, both local and national, participating. The event was held in the Men's Gym at 7 p.m. and the results will be announced on honors day.

Other Greek week events still to come are the all-campus serenade at 10 p.m. tomorrow night, the formal opening of fraternity row at 2 p.m., Saturday, and open house at fraternity row at 3:30 the same day.

The week's events will end with the Wood County Interfraternity Banquet at the Commons, beginning at 6:45 p.m. Saturday.

Clean Up or Close Up Is Nest Ultimatum

"The Student Union Bldg. will be closed next year if it continues to be abused in the present manner," Dr. Frank J. Prout has announced.

Dr. Prout has stated that various departments are interested in converting the Nest into classrooms for their own use. In its present condition it is an eyesore on the campus.

Initiations Cause Problems

According to Harry Bavis, acting postmaster, many difficulties are arising from the use of 3 cent and 1½ cent stamps by the fraternities and sororities for the mailing of invitations.

Postal regulations state that only printed cards, without writing other than a signature, or mimeographed copies (if presented at the Postoffice in quantities of not less than 20) can be mailed for 1½ cents. Any invitation or announcement which is written in longhand or is typewritten must be paid for at the rate of 3 cents an ounce.

Mr. Bavis asks the students to comply with these rules because the announcements and invitations are often delayed by sending them back for the additional postage.

A clean-up campaign is being conducted under the joint auspices of the Student Union committee, SCF, represented by Myron Jackson, and the Newman Club represented by John Gillespie. Student Senate members, William Zimmerman and Charles Joyce, are assisting. The scouting honorary, Alpha Phi Omega, is represented by Dan Fourman.

All above-named groups are sponsoring the drive under the chairmanship of John Dyer, of the Student Union Committee. Other committee members in the campaign are Barbara Ward and Don Williamson.

During the past week the groups have placed barrels for trash, containers for cigarette butts, and signs around the Nest. Daily announcements were broadcast over the PA system. Observers state that some progress is being made, but emphasized the danger of the building closing its doors if the change does not continue.

The Falcon's Nest was officially opened in spring 1941. Students could use it for dancing, playing cards, or just to lounge around.

Today, however, with the advent of some 2,000 more students the building is overwhelmed by the tide. Plans for increasing its size are being made and an appropriation for the job has been requested.

By Anders Moen

Editors Note: This is the first in a series of editorials written by foreign students on campus.

Denmark, one of Europe's smallest countries, is among the 16 nations to receive aid from the United States under the Marshall Plan. Her total area is only 18,000 square miles (twice the area of Maryland), but the population numbers some 4,000,000 people.

Despite her size, Denmark is of great importance to European economy because of her great production of butter, bacon, ham, cheese, eggs, and vital foodstuffs. Before the war, Denmark supplied 50 per cent of the world's trade in butter and 33 per cent of the bacon.

In order to return to her former capacity of production, this small country needs large quantities of machinery and fertilizer. Since she has no industry of importance to produce these articles, imports must be relied upon to meet the requirements.

During the five years of German occupation, the farmers and industries were forced to speed up their production and "sell" everything to Germany. Of course, nothing was paid for and these Danish exports had to be financed by the Danish National Bank. When the war terminated Germany owed Denmark more than one billion dollars for which she can never expect to receive any compensation.

This situation has brought the whole Danish economic system out of kilter. Here is her main problem: How to bring agricultural production up to the pre-war level, not only to help the re-establishment of her own economy, but also to help feed the people in the other starving European countries. Denmark has already cut her food rations down so that at the present time they are smaller than during the war.

In the report to the United States, Denmark has emphasized that she would be able to carry some of the burden of feeding Europe provided that she receives the necessary machines, tools, and fertilizers which are needed for increasing the agricultural production.

The European Recovery Program, which will give Denmark about 130 million dollars for the purchase of this equipment, was received with great enthusiasm and gratitude.

Another problem of quite a different nature, but nevertheless of great importance for Denmark, is that of Greenland. This island, the largest in the world, has for centuries been a Danish colony. When Denmark was occupied by Germany in 1940, the former Danish ambassador to the United States made a treaty with the American government which gave the U. S. the right to build and establish army and naval bases there as long as the war lasted. This treaty was later ratified by the Danish government.

However, it has been almost three years since the war ended and the U. S. is still occupying some of these bases. Thus far, negotiations for the removal of these forces have led to no positive results, but Denmark hopes that the United States will understand the reasons why she wants to resume the full sovereignty of her large colony.

Editor's Note: Page 2 will be reserved for letters to the editor next week.

Independents' Day came a little early this year, last Friday to be exact, when the independents succeeded in getting their candidate elected as Li'l Abner. However, despite the record vote which was cast, the election was not one to be especially proud of.

When the fraternities got together to put up a coalition candidate in an attempt to defeat the independents, they showed a pettiness not worthy of college students. They also showed that the rivalry between fraternities is small as compared to the rivalry between fraternities and independents.

It is hoped that the failure of this attempt to play power politics will discourage such attempts in the future. Too many students in his election voted for principles instead of persons.

The fraternities as a whole are not to be blamed for their action, many of their members were thoroughly disgusted and voted against instructions. But those fraternity leaders who called the meeting and suggested a coalition are to be blamed; they played a childish game in which the other fraternity candidates became mere pawns.

There were other things in this election to which attention should be called. The tearing down of posters and stealing of pictures, whether it was done by independents or Greeks, was another evidence of immaturity.

Evidently the rules set up for campaigning were not meant to be taken seriously. Numerous groups had pictures much larger than the regulation size, and yet their candidates were not disqualified. One candidate got advance publicity in a large newspaper which was hardly fair to her competitors.

This election was important only as a matter of principles. The next election will be important because it will be held to choose qualified persons to fill important posts. It is encouraging to know that so many people can be gotten to the polls. It will be even more encouraging if next time a similar number vote with their minds instead of their emotions.

Nancy Walters and Jack Dawe were introduced as Daisy Mae and Li'l Abner at Saturday's dance.

Rose Waltz Contest Winners Given Roses

Mary Ferrone and Charles Hockenberry won the Rose Waltz contest at the annual Spring Dream formal sponsored by Alpha Gamma Delta sorority.

Dorothy Kanouse, president of the group, presented a dozen red roses to the couple.

Letter to The Editor

Dear Editor:

In the April 21 edition of the Bee Gee News appeared an editorial which used the phrase "the usual feeble weekly attempts." This quotation referred to the dances sponsored mainly by sororities and fraternities of the campus. In my opinion it is an insult to all groups who have given dances so far this year, excluding the Phi Delta fraternity, which was complimented on its originality in the same editorial.

It is an insult to all the contests sponsored and to all the awards and honors given at these dances—so they are "feeble!" I tend to disagree with the author whoever he may be. I noticed no by-line was printed. If his opinion is that of the "majority of students on campus," then I suggest that the sororities and fraternities close their dances. Thus those who consider these dances "stiff, monotonous, and routine" will not have to attend.

Sincerely yours,
June Rankin

Vocational Guidance For Women Saturday

Lectures and personal conferences will be featured at the Vocational Conference for Women sponsored by Cap and Gown, senior women's honorary, Saturday, May 15.

University professors will speak on the various vocations.

Sign-up sheets are posted in the dormitories and off-campus women may sign up in Dean Wilder's office.

Dean Kenneth McFall will lead the opening assembly at 9:30 a.m.

Three series of 40-minute lectures and question periods will follow. Places to be announced at the opening assembly.

Anyone may sign up for afternoon personal conference.

CHAIRMEN RETIRE

Both of the new acting chairmen are members of Phi Beta Kappa. Dr. Rew has been on the faculty since 1935 and Dr. Platt since 1946.

The former, a native of Tiverton, England, attended the Universities of Paris, Chicago, and Illinois and taught at Culver Military Academy, Williams College and the Universities of Illinois and Florida.

Dr. Platt was born in Waco, Texas. He is a graduate of Lincoln High School, Council Bluffs, Iowa, the University of Iowa, and Tufts College.

He has taught at Fairmont (W. Va.) State College and Western College, Oxford, O., and has served in army intelligence in New Guinea and the Philippines.

Derby Day Entertains Campus Saturday

A blast of horns and a parade made colorful with bright hued derbies, clowns, and a big-wheeled bicycle announced to the campus Saturday afternoon that Sigma Chi Derby Day was here.

The event was a victorious one for Alpha Chi Omega and Sigma Nu, who carried home with them the trophies as winners for the day. Gamma Phi Beta, winner for the two years previous of Derby Day enthusiastically strove to maintain their record, but lost to the Alpha Chi's.

The two clowns, Stan Paskan and Bill Porto kept the crowd interested until the contests were ready to begin. Free bubble gum was passed out to the audience, and the antics of the clowns provided additional entertainment. Other bright spots of the pre-contest time were the Phi-mule, the SAE bicycle, and the Alpha Phi band.

First was the balloon blowing contest which was won by the Kappa Delta's. Theta Phi was second; Alpha Gamma Delta, third; and Alpha Chi Omega, fourth. In the men's contest, Sigma Nu took first place; Phi Beta Mu, second; Kappa Sigma, third; and Pi Kappa Alpha, fourth.

The four-legged race was won by Kappa Delta, Alpha Phi was second; Alpha Gamma Delta, third; and Chi Omega, fourth. Sigma Nu won in the men's race, with Beta Sigma, second; Phi Delta, third; and Pi Kappa Alpha, fourth.

The Alpha Chi Omega's won the shoe scramble, with Alpha Xi Delta taking second place; Women's Independent Society, third; and Phi Mu, fourth. Pi Theta won first place for the men, with Sigma Nu, second; Kappa Sigma, third; and Theta Chi, fourth.

Champion egg-throwers for the girls were the Alpha Phi's, in second place were the Alpha Chi Omega's, Gamma Phi Beta was third, and Theta Phi fourth. Kappa Tau, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and Pi Kappa Alpha tied for first place; Alpha Tau Omega was second; Beta Sigma, third; and Phi Delta, fourth.

The Phi Mu's wheel-barrelled to the finish, with Gamma Phi Beta coming in second; Alpha Gamma Delta, third; and Kappa Delta, fourth. With one boy atop his shoulders and another as a wheel barrel, the Kappa Sigma contestants came in first, with Theta Chi following, then Kappa Tau, and Sigma Nu, fourth.

Sack racers extraordinaire were the Alpha Chi Omega's, with Delta Gamma, second; Phi Mu, third; and Gamma Phi Beta, fourth. The Kappa Sigs were also champions, with Sigma Nu, second; Beta Sigma, third; and Pi Kappa Alpha, fourth.

The women's balloon race was won by Gamma Phi Beta; W.I.S. was second; Phi Mu, third; and Alpha Chi, fourth. The Sigma Nu's were the male champs, with Phi Delta, second; S.A.E., third; and Theta Chi, fourth.

The mystery event, a glorified obstacle race, was won by Alpha Chi Omega, with Gamma Phi Beta, second; Kappa Delta, third; and Pi Theta, fourth.

Champs of the tug of war contest were Phi Mu and Alpha Tau Omega.

what's your opinion?

by Dick Lenhart

Now that "Sadie Hawkins" week has been here and gone, and the fellows have had a chance to be asked for dates, and the girls have had a chance to ask for dates, we asked the question, "Which would you rather do, chase or be chased?"

As far as Angela DeGaetano, freshman from Cleveland Heights, is concerned she prefers to be chased by the opposite sex. Although she added this, "A girl chases a man she likes, whether she realizes it or not, but she always does it in a manner that isn't known to the man. Either way you look at it, the girls are out to get a man."

"I've had more dates this week than usual," said the "beard" alias Jim Galloway, sophomore from Euclid. "In my opinion all dates should be on the Sadie Hawkins' basis, that is I mean the girl should pay the bill, especially around the end of the month."

Phyllis Clark, postoffice employee from Bowling Green, surprised us by saying that she was married. "After three long years of courtship, and he chased me, we were married," Phyllis went on to say that a fellow appreciates it more if he can make the choice.

"This chasing business should be put strictly on a sportsmanship basis. I'm keeping myself in good condition so that I can be assured of not being caught. I'll be glad to challenge any girl to a 100 yard dash. If she wins I'll buy her a milkshake. As for a date, it would be nice if you could turn your name in at a date bureau, get a date and have a good time. Of course this way you might get an iron robot, but those are the chances you'd have to take." This worthy statement was given by Phil Miles, from Dayton, Ohio.

Bob Oller, sophomore from Tiffin, says that man needs woman, therefore he should do the chasing. Women are expected to be demure. "You know," he continued, "women like to be dominated, deep down in their hearts."

A PLEDGES LIFE. Pi Theta pledges went through "hell" week recently and it turned out to be just that for two pledges—Harland Latohma and Ed Nowak. While in Toledo one night to get a red rabbit, a duck egg, and a guinea hen feather, they were picked up by the police for prowling when trying to awaken an owner of a poultry shop. When the police phoned to have the boys' story verified, the fellows at the house couldn't remember having sent the two pledges out. Consequently, they spent the night in jail. They were released at five the next morning with little love for their fraternity brothers.

MORE CAPTIVES. Doris Collins and Lillian Davidson were recently pledged to Sigma Rho Tau.

HISTORY REPEATING ITSELF. Colene Woodmency was chosen the outstanding pledge of Phi Mu sorority, the same honor her big sister, Reva Bailey, received by her big sister, Lillian. Campbrell received the award for the best scrap book, an honor also received by her big sister, Lillian Rossow, last year.

MORE AWARDS. Phyllis Knapp was awarded the cup for being the outstanding pledge of Chi Omega sorority. Bunny Mercer was awarded the prize for the best pledge notebook. Pat Davis Hawthorne, former Tri Lambda president, was a guest the weekend of initiation.

POLITICS. New bosses of Alpha Xi Delta sorority are Kay Erf, president; Virginia Stimpson, vice-president; Artina Weaver, recording secretary; Nancy Nelson, corresponding secretary; Sabina Slichevski, treasurer; and Polly Moeller, pledge mistress.

ANOTHER. New officers of the Theta Chi fraternity are Robert Rundell, president; Arthur Balsat, vice-president; Donald Wuescher, secretary; Harvey Coulter, treasurer; and Robert Marsh, pledge master.

HOUSE FULL. The Alpha Chi Omega sorority house was packed after the Minneapolis Symphony concert when Mr. Metropolis and all the members of his orchestra were entertained by the sorority at a coffee hour.

TAKE OVER. Anna Mae Bulgo is the new Sigma Rho Tau prexy. Other officers are Marilyn Arps, vice-president; Lillian Hanc, corresponding secretary; Edith Ludwig, recording secretary; Lucy Ahumada, pledge mistress, and Nancy Baughman, rush chairman.

THE UNEXPECTED. Alpha Gamma Delta sorority gave a surprise shower recently for the former Barbara Osmun, now Mrs. Jim Provost.

Professors Attend Language Forum

Professors John Haggard, Bertil Sima, and William Weiersheuser attended a regional Foreign Language Conference at the University of Kentucky, April 23 and 24. Professor Haggard read a paper before the Spanish section, Professor Weiersheuser, before the German section, and Professor Sima, before the general conference.

"That Winter" Denies War Creates A Lost Generation

by A. L. McClain

Following the recent World War, publishing houses and literary people have asked one question: "When is an author going to write the story of this war's lost generation?" After the first World War, Ernest Hemingway went to Paris and wrote his first novel, "The Sun Also Rises,"—that became the interpretation of the war.

Dr. Helms Ends Work On State Constitution

Dr. Lloyd A. Helms, Professor of Economics at Bowling Green, has completed his work on the Ohio College Association's six-man committee appointed to recommend revision of the 97-year-old constitution of the State of Ohio.

As a whole the changes which are proposed tend to streamline the document, simplifying many of the more wordy, obsolete, and complex parts.

But the committee also recommended several definite changes which if put into effect would change the legislative, executive, and judicial branches of the state government to quite a degree.

One of the most important changes in the state's legislative branch would be a four-year term for state senators instead of the usual two, while the executive branch would be changed so that the governor would also serve four years.

The office of lieutenant governor would be abolished and only the governor would be elected. All other state officers would be appointed.

Among other changes recommended by the committee for the judiciary branch was the assignment of stronger administrative powers to the chief justice of the supreme court.

Freshman Article Published in Bulletin

An article by Charles (Jim) Hillson, appears in the current issue of the Ohio Conservation Bulletin.

Title of the article, prepared in a feature writing class, is "The Poisonous Snakes of Ohio." Drawings were prepared by Al Werden, freshman, and Dr. Everett C. Myers, assistant professor of biology, provided some of the information for the article.

A freshman, Charles, is a biology major, minoring in journalism. This is his first published work.

"That Winter" by Merle Miller is the closest approach to such an interpretation of World War II. Assuming of course, the servicemen deserves the term, "generation." Mr. Miller has all the unrest, the What to do? of his period. However his book is a success, because he is frank in his admittance that there is no lost generation.

The three veterans seemingly find themselves at the end of the book: the rich boy finds mitigation in liquor, the Jew returns to his parents, and the writer finds a happier ending by writing.

Mr. Miller has been handicapped by his raw materials. He does not have the bonanza of material that was Hemingway's, and he has had to prospect long and deeply in his claim to establish a strike.

If the veterans in "That Winter" consume more liquor than the predecessors, they still remain obvious, and easily catalogued into two types: those who were bored and those who weren't.

Comparing this new novel with "The Sun Also Rises" is perhaps an unfair approach to reviewing a book, but it is also the highest compliment one can pay a writer.

Until a better story comes along, "That Winter" is the story of the return home: no lost generation, interesting characters, a prosaic mood already making its appearance. Or in an analogy entirely apart from the book—the ideologues of the veteran, and his ambitions transferred into courteous shoe salesman, dead factory workers, and obvious college students.

Miss Carolyn Shaw

Sitting on the boss's knee sounding interesting to Miss Carolyn Shaw as a student—but not interesting enough!

After graduating from Smith College and the Secretarial School of Simmons College in Boston, she worked as stenographer and bookkeeper in a stockbroker's office in Detroit. Later cashier and office manager of a Michigan Insurance Co., she decided her real interest was not in secretarial work, but in physical education.

Following a period of study at Wellesley College, she became director of the physical education department of New York City's west side YWCA, in a section called "Hell's Kitchen." After directing YW work in Dayton, she came to Bowling Green in 1923.

Only 600 students were enrolled at that time and women's physical education classes were taught by the men's physical education instructors. Miss Shaw organized the women's department and during her second year received an assistant. In 1928, a major in physical education was established and became a very important area in the college curriculum.

She received her masters degree at Columbia University, and during the summer months took courses in physical education at the University of Michigan.

Her hobbies are gardening vegetables and flowers, hiking and meeting people. She has found traveling to be the most enjoyable and worthwhile aspect of her educational background.

with the great in music

by Dorothy Schumann

Opera workshops! That's what America needs! So says Otto Luening, composer, teacher, and conductor, and he's certainly right!

There is enough talent in this country to make America's musical culture second to none. The trouble now is that when a musician finally gets a chance at "big-time," he often fails, even though he has talent, because he lacks the necessary stage experience.

The workshops would be good for conductors, singers, and people interested in stage design, management, and direction. Also they would give the composer a chance to have some of his work produced.

Some steps in this direction have been taken. For example, the Alice M. Ditson Fund commissions an opera a year. Columbia University's board of trustees has approved a plan for a Creative Arts Center, calling for a 15-story building, with two theatres and space to house the workers. But we still have a long, long way to go!

At least musical pioneering spirit on the west coast isn't dead. According to a reviewer (Howard Taubman of the New York Times) he was amazed recently to see the youthfulness of the audience at some recent symphonic concerts there.

There was a reason for it he soon discovered. Conductors on the Pacific coast make a special effort to interest young people in their performances. Outstanding of these is Alfred Wallenstein, whose Saturday afternoon radio broadcast, "Symphonies for Youth," has been appreciated by children of six to 60. Besides this he has granted special permission to boys and girls to come to the Thursday morning rehearsals of the orchestra. All this to increase the audience of tomorrow by getting it interested today.

Requirements are three college years of Spanish or the equivalent, including three hours of a third year course in Spanish Literature. Average grade in Spanish courses must be B+ and general scholastic average must be B-.

Miss Florence Baird, an honorary member, will act as advisor for the group. Twenty-two students are eligible, and five honorary members.

Tug Of War Fails; Pledges Dunked

Kappa Tau pledges (prospective Delta Tau Deltas) seem to be getting the worst of the deal in this view of Powell's Pond, scene of the scuttling of two local pledge classes.

by Harold Flagg

Fourteen dripping Kappa Tau and Kappa Sigma pledges (also dripping) have thoroughly explored the bottom of Powell's Pond.

No one came up with Davey Jones' locker, but a liberal supply of mud and slime was unearthed.

Kappa Tau's pledgemaster (likewise dripping) explained his excess mud and moisture with, "I was hunting for golf balls and slipped."

If this story seems more garbled than usual (Editor's note: no comment), perhaps we'd better further explain those loud splashes that recently disturbed campus tranquillity.

Pledges if seems, had made Fraternity Row life miserable with a series of pranks. Active members grew tired of their pajamas being tied in knots, glasses glued to tables, short-sheeted beds, etc.

So two pledge teams were "invited" to a tug-of-war command performance—which was just fine with the pledges (until they found out that the rope was to be stretched over the campus pond).

But the rope broke! Pledges raced unsuccessfully for freedom. Captive pledges were than unceremoniously dumped in the drink.

Oh, to be a pledge . . . and prove for all posterity that college life can be all wet.

Pledges will get their chance for revenge tonight from 7 to 9 when pledges will engage the actives in a like tug-of-war over the pond. Actives are favored to win by a big margin.

GOLF COURSE NEEDS MANAGEMENT!!!

T. J. Loomis, Jr.

There seem to be several prevailing conditions which do not add to the enjoyment of golfers on the university links this spring. One is the fact that many people have been playing with little heed to the rules of etiquette. Beginners should make an effort to learn these rules. Careless, impolite attitude toward others, always infuriating to those imposed upon, can also cause serious physical injury.

The crowded condition of the course is in itself a big handicap. Bee Gee students have often noticed golfers who are obviously not entitled to be playing here. The course is provided for the convenience of students and faculty, and unfortunately can not be utilized by all residents of Bowling Green and their children.

Possibly a solution to the problems is to provide some kind of supervision. A small building could easily be erected near the first tee. Signs could be posted giving the local rules as well as regular "courtesy regulations." Scorecards would be issued, and balls, tees, and refreshments sold there.

By maintaining a staff of responsible students the players could be checked for proof that they are entitled to play. This would not only improve conditions for everyone, but would provide a few more jobs on campus.

BASEBALL TEAM FEELS SLIGHTED

The fact that the athletic department has not adequately equipped the baseball team has been a constant and legitimate gripe of the Falcon squad this year. The uniforms have seen better days and many of the boys have had to supply their own pants in desperation. Most colleges provide their diamond men with shoes but, although it is rumored that Bee Gee has spikes on hand, the players have been forced to buy their own.

Another evidence of apparent tightfistedness was brought to light recently when football managers of the past two seasons were awarded their "letters." Instead of monograms on regular letter sweaters, the hardworking boys were given cheaper creations with tiny diamond shaped emblems reading "football manager." No glory, not nuthin. Tsk tsk, gentlemen. Are times really as tough as that?

Kentucky And Holy Cross Listed On '49 Cage Card

Because only a few game contracts are signed and many loopholes exist, Coach Harold Anderson will be plenty busy from now until the end of the term rounding out the stiff basketball schedule he proposes for his next Falcon aggregation.

After the disastrous Madison Square Garden final in March, Andy realized Bowling Green must meet and beat the country's best teams in order to again impress a selection board for a bid to 1949 post season competition. This resulted in the scheduling of the national champion Kentucky cagers at the Cleveland Arena, Jan. 11.

Knowing that his 1948-49 team will be even better than the last and feeling confident that he can force dubious experts to admit his team belongs at the top, Andy began immediately after the final tilt to prepare for next winter and returned from New York with proposed games and dates to meet three of the nation's top teams; Long Island University, Holy Cross, and LaSalle.

As yet Christmas vacation is unbooked and there is a possibility the Falcons may fly to the west coast where they will engage the most formidable competition that section of the country has to offer; in San Francisco University, St. Mary's and Loyola of Los Angeles.

Falcon diamondmen passed the halfway mark in their schedule as they split a doubleheader with Wayne Saturday.

Unbeaten Trackmen Stop Kent State And Toledo

Netmen Loose At Wayne

Coach Martin Winemiller's Falcon netmen evened the season's record at 2-all last week as they downed Lawrence Tech 6-3, and bowed to Wayne, 9-1.

The Technicians visited here last Monday for their defeat. Singles winners for BG were Dave Scudder, John Maring, Jim Geiger, and Harry Thomasen. Scudder finished off his opponent, 6-2, 6-1.

In the doubles division of the LT match, the victorious pairs for the Orange and Brown were Maring and Kempton Jenkins, Tom Losh and Bill Pickett.

At the Detroit Tennis Club on Saturday the team fell prey to a powerful Wayne University squad. Only one match of the 10 was won by BG. Jenkins and Maring took their doubles game, 13-11, 4-6, and 6-4.

Previously, the netters won over Toledo and lost to Michigan State. In the next home contest the racketmen face Michigan Normal this Friday.

Softball

Summer School softball team will practice Thursday afternoon at 6. All candidates should report to the softball diamond behind the huts.

Bowling Green's track team annexed its second and third straight victories during vacation by trouncing Toledo University 121-15 and Kent State 88 2/3-28 1/3.

The Bee Gee thin clads took first place in all 16 events in the Toledo meet run here, and set four new records for the local track.

Robinson, Bowling Green's crack sprint star, set a new record for the 100 yd. dash with an impressive 9.9 for that event. He had tied the old mark of 10.1 set by Harrison Dillard of Baldwin-Wallace in 1943, earlier this spring against Central Michigan.

A new record for the 220 yd. dash was set by the Falcons' Peanuts Long when he ran the distance in 21.4. The old mark was 22. A record also fell in the 880 yd. relay as the Falcon team of Robinson, Mould, Sazima, and Long sped the distance in 1:30.8. Robinson set a new record for the broad jump with a jump of 22'11 1/2".

The Orange and Brown journeyed to Kent State to overpower the Golden Flashes for their third victory. The "record breaking" Falcons shattered seven more track records in this meet held May 1.

New records were set in the 880 yd. run, 440 yd. run, shot put, pole vault, broad jump, discus, and the mile relay.

The Falcons again showed their overwhelming strength by taking first place in 12 of 15 events and placing one-two in five.

Falcon Nine Meets O. Northern Saturday

by Bill Day
Sports Editor

Bowling Green's powerful track squad, undefeated in three meets this season, will entertain the University of Cincinnati Saturday morning at 10 on the local cinders while the Falcon baseball team will try to pull out of its mid-season slump against Ohio Northern.

Coach Bob Whittaker's trackers have won lopsided vic-

IM Softball Begins With Full Schedule

Plenty of fast action is being seen each night on the various softball diamonds as the intramural leagues swing into their third week.

In the fraternity division, Sigma Nu, Sigma Chi, and Phi Delta are pacing their respective circuits. Chief reason for the Sigma Chi's success lies in the superb hurling of Bud Flegle. In the first of his two victories he fashioned a no-hitter against Pi Theta, the Sigs winning, 18-0.

In Sigma Chi's 13 to 0 win over Phi Beta Mu, Flegle hurled his second no-hitter and struck out 21 men. He walked two and hit one and no batter to face him hit the ball.

There are five leagues playing in the independent division. Hut P is showing the way in League I. They took over undisputed while the C-Coups and Hut D also had one win each but also had a third straight win.

The League II leader is the Kaurich AC with a pair of wins. Everyone is in the act in the jumbled League III race. Up to Monday night P's Boys and the Perrysburgers each had one victory and had not lose while the C-Coups and Hut D also had one win each but also had suffered one setback.

Bud's Duds and Hut H lead Leagues IV and V with two consecutive wins. Upon completion of regular league play, the playoffs will begin to be climaxed by the all-campus championship game between the winners of the frat and independent playoffs.

SHIP AHOY!

Four men are needed to represent Bowling Green in a sailing regatta to be held at the University of Michigan this spring. Men who are interested in this should contact Bob Johns at the Phi Delta House this week.

ories over Central Michigan, University of Toledo, and Kent State so far this spring. In downing Kent State 88 2/3 to 38 1/3, the Falcons set seven new track records on the Kent track and against Toledo, Bowling Green set four new records on its home track while trimming Toledo 121 to 15.

After opening their season with three wins, the baseball club dropped two in a row to Findlay College and Michigan Normal, came back to win against Ball State Teachers, and then split a doubleheader with Wayne University Saturday afternoon.

Weak hitting has been the downfall of the Falcons so far this year. After the first six games only one regular is over the .300 mark. Glen Honner, who led the Falcon hitters last year, is hitting .318 and also leads the squad in runs, hits, total bases, home runs, and runs batted in. Jeremiah, Inman, and Johnston are above the .200 mark while Martin, Lute, Burton, and Bohanna are all hitting below .150.

BG opponents have only been able to collect an average of 2.8 runs per game from the Falcon hurlers in the first six tilts while BG has averaged 4.1 runs per game. Petrides is the leading hurler with four victories against no defeats.

The tennis team will meet Michigan Normal here Friday afternoon and the golf team will travel to Ohio Wesleyan Thursday and the University of Michigan Saturday for scheduled matches.

Golfers Stop Ohio U.

The golf team became the first Bowling Green squad to lose to the University of Toledo since the two teams resumed relations last winter, as it dropped the match 17 1/2 to 9 1/2, a week ago, at the BG Country Club.

Moe Seiple and Chuck Hunter were low for the Falcons, each with 74. Bud Anteau of Toledo carried off medalist honors with 72.

On April 29, the Falcons dumped Ohio Wesleyan 11 1/2 to 5 1/2. Meredith Davis fired a 72 to win honors. The matches were held at BG.

The University of Michigan's Junior Varsity fell to the Falcons on May 1, 20-7, on the Bowling Green links. Moe Seiple was medalist with a low of 72.

In other meets this week, the Lawrence Tech match was postponed indefinitely because of rain, and the Falcons beat Ohio University last Saturday 7 1/2-4 1/2, with Chuck Hunter low with 72.

Falcons And Wayne Split Double Header

by Tom Foy

In a thrilling eleven-inning pitcher's battle, BG's hot and cold nine dropped a 2-1 decision to Wayne University at the Tartars' home field in the first game of a doubleheader Saturday night.

The nightcap went to the Falcons, 7-2, as they brought across five tallies to break a 2-2 deadlock in the eighth inning of a regularly scheduled 7-inning contest.

Although relieved in the fourth, Freddy Petrides received credit for the win, his fourth of the season without a loss. The split with Wayne enabled the Falcons to maintain a 5-3 won and loss record for the eight games they've played thus far this season.

Ray Roob went the route in the opener and pitched a splendid game, allowing no hits in the first six innings. The Tartars got their first run in the eighth when the first batter singled, stole second and came home on an error. In the last half of the eleventh, two walks, followed by a pair of singles enabled the Detroiters to push across the winning marker.

BG scored its lone run in the fifth when Roob was safe on an error, moved to second on another error, took third on a wild pitch and scored on Glen Honner's single.

Honner, Lute, and Jeremiak did all the hitting for the Falcons, collecting a brace of singles apiece. Larry Gaffka, the Wayne hurler struck out 13 Falcon batters in chalking up the win.

In the nightcap, Wayne scored a run in both the sixth and seventh innings to knot the score and force the game into overtime. The tie was short-lived however, as two walks, an error, a single, a fielder's choice, and a double by Hegstrom enabled the Falcons to rack up five runs and capture the verdict.

Although outlit 5-4 by the Tartars, BG was greatly aided by six Wayne miscues. Three pitchers, Petrides, Stull and Hegstrom saw action with Burton doing the catching. The first Wayne run was scored on a round tripper by Newbacker.

Falcons Split Over Vacation

The Falcon baseball team split even over spring vacation, beating Ball State College 8-5, and losing to Michigan Normal by the score of 4 to 1. The other game scheduled with Wayne University was rained out after three and a half innings of play, saving Bee Gee from almost certain defeat as it was on the very short end of a 9 to 1 score.

After rain had washed out the game with Wayne here on Saturday, April 24, the ball club took a six day rest and then traveled to Michigan Normal on Friday the 30. Ray Roob drew the pitching assignment for BG and Martin for Normal.

Martin of the Ypsi's was the winning pitcher, going the distance, and Roob the loser, being relieved by Stull in the eighth. Totals on the game were Normal 4 runs on 7 hits and 1 error; Bowling Green 1 run, 5 hits, and 1 error.

The following day the Falcons moved over to Indiana and met Ball State Teacher's College in a slugfest. Petrides threw for Bee Gee and Steelman for Ball State. Totals were Bowling Green 8 runs and 9 hits; Ball State 5 runs, 13 hits, and 1 error. Petrides was the winning pitcher.

Volleyball Champs

Pris Powers and Ruth Davis, co-captains of the Williams Hall volleyball team, were presented with the gold cup trophy at the annual Women's Athletic Association banquet.

The 1948 Williams Hall volleyball champs who ranked 30 teams for first place include: Trois Woods, Ginny Hershey, Pat Derig, Barbara Miller, Ada Gustavson, Agnes Massie, Elizabeth

Congratulations to Tiny Johnson, all her committees, and the physical education staff for making the High School Sports Day a great success.

An invasion of 496 high school students representing 37 schools participated in the annual Sports Day program.

Letter Awards

Winning sweaters and letters for eight seasons of sports and two club memberships are Irma Barton, Marilyn West, Nan Gleason, Kay Erf, Janet Williamson, Marilyn Gebhardt, Alice Viemeier, Kay Ward, and Joyce Kamps.

Swimming Meet

Get out your vitamin pills and nose plugs and come over to the Nat tonight at 8 for the all-campus swimming meet sponsored by the Swan Club.

There may be one team from each dorm or sorority house.

Spectators are allowed but there is no guarantee against getting a little wet—and no free towels are furnished. Just join the crowd and come to the Nat tonight at 8.

Softball Tourney

Batter up! Softball players are now in their fifth week of tournament games.

There have been some very exciting games behind the Women's Bldg. and some that have proved uninteresting because teams with not enough players had to forfeit. Back up your team and be out on the diamond ready to play at 4:15.

W.R.A. Officers

New officers elected for the Women's Recreation Association for the fall term include: Evelyn Bell, president; Barb Bottenus, vice-president; Anne Henderson, treasurer; Ellen Byrnes, social chairman; and Pat Moon, corresponding secretary. Good luck for your coming year.

Archers

A remainder to all Archery Club members who have not been out to meetings this spring—come out to the archery range every Monday and Wednesday at 4 p.m. unless it is raining. Plans are being made for the Ohio Intercollegiate Tournament to be held this week and next.

WHY... I smoke Chesterfield
(FROM A SERIES OF STATEMENTS BY PROMINENT TOBACCO FARMERS)

Liggett & Myers buy top quality cigarette tobacco and pay top prices for it... nobody will average paying more than they do year in and year out.

I've been smoking Chesterfields ever since I've been smoking. I just like them... they have real tobacco flavor.
